POSITIONS

(2018 - present) Senior Lecturer (tenured) and Program Director/Coordinator for the Bachelor of International Studies at the University of the Sunshine Coast

This is a tenured position, 40% Teaching, 40% Research, 20% Administration. I teach six subjects per year: INT250, INT370, INT335, JST202 and INT202 (both semesters). I coordinate all enrolments, graduations and progressions for all students in the degree. I manage a team of five academic staff (1 permanent) and sit on various university committees (i.e. Program Coordinators, Internationalisation, Teaching Committee, and the HDR Committee). I supervise PhD and Masters students.

(2020 Nov – 2021 Feb) Research Associate, United National University (UNU Flores) for the project ‘Sustainable Transformation in Coal Regions of the Global South: Challenges from a Resource Nexus Perspective – NEXtra Core’

Volunteer research position completing a scoping study on coal, sustainability, and ‘Just Transition’ culminating in a United Nations report in Dec 2022. The component of my research is the case-study on Mozambique.

(2018 – ongoing) Adjunct Research Fellow, Griffith Centre for Social and Cultural Research

Affiliate position for research and supervision of doctoral students.

(2014 –2017) Griffith University Research Fellow

This was non-tenure track position of Research: 20%; Teaching: 70% Research; 10% Administration. Alongside research, I was responsible for HDR supervision (three successful completions) and teaching the Master’s Degree unit 7001GIR.

(2008 – ongoing) Co-Founder and Co-Editor, Global Discourse

First developed in 2008, this is an interdisciplinary journal of political theory, international relations and applied contemporary thought. The journal is now under permanent contract with Bristol University Press, published quarterly.

(2012 – 2014) University of Queensland Postdoctoral Research Fellow

This was a postdoctoral position funded by The University of Queensland for the project “The Cosmopolitan Dimensions of Recognition: The case of climate change justice.” It included research, teaching and supervision duties. Funding: $280,936.

(2010 – 2011) Research Fellow – University of Helsinki

This position was based on a competitive research grant for the project on the formation of a Greenhouse Gas Tax, funded by the Centre of Excellence in Global Governance Research, University of Helsinki, Finland, July 2010-February 2011. Funding: 28,308€.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Program Coordinator for the Bachelor of International Studies (BIS), University of the Sunshine Coast, 2018-present.

As Program Coordinator I effectively organise all teaching across the degree, including: designing and implementing all teaching curriculum; managing all teaching and research staff (currently five, with one permanent); organising admissions, progressions and graduations of all students; and I sit on five university committees. In addition, I teach six subjects in the program:

INT250 Force of Change in World Politics [teaching evaluation 2021: 3.9/4]

JST202 International Justice and Human Rights [teaching evaluation 2021: 3.2/4]

INT335 International Relations Theory and Practice [teaching evaluation 2018: 4/4 (as class size is now reduced, so no statistics for 2021)]

INT370 Politics and the Media [teaching evaluation 2019: 3.4/4]

INT202 Industry Project (Semesters 1 and 2) [supervision-based subject, no evaluations]

I also sit on a number of university committees related to teaching, including: Teaching and Learning Committee, Program Coordinators Committee, and Internationalisation of the Curriculum Committee, and have made submissions regarding teaching and degree structure to the Academic Board (head governance structure of the university). In addition I have headed committees on areas of strategic interest such as the Scholars at Risk network.
